Project Title:

Please comment on how this student’s work/group’s work meets the Eligibility Requirements. The judges are particularly interested in your thoughts on how the project demonstrates the following:

• the overall intellectual quality of this project, its fulfillment of the assigned task(s), its relation to discipline-specific conventions of information research, and its contribution to the discipline;

• exceptional depth and breadth in the use of information resources appropriate to the discipline and project, including, but not limited to, printed resources, databases, primary resources, interviews, and materials in all media;

• exceptional ability to select, evaluate, and synthesize information resources and integrate them in the creation of a project in any medium; and,

• evidence of significant development of skills and knowledge in locating, gathering evaluating and using information through the course of the project.

Letters of support should be no longer than 500 words, and may be given to your student(s) to submit with their application; submitted directly to judges by delivering to the Library Service Desk; or sent electronically to at libraryawards@mtroyal.ca

Letters of support will be retained by the Mount Royal University Library and may be used to promote the Award, the Library, and undergraduate research conducted at the University.
